

CHILDREN'S LANTERN PARADE

PROCEEDS BENEFITTING:
SECOND HARVEST FOOD BANK
AND THE JW HOUSE

WEDNESDAY, DECEMBER 5, 2007

FESTIVITIES BEGIN AT 5:15 P.M.

BRIEF PROGRAM AT 6:00 P.M.

PROCESSION BEGINS AT 6:15 P.M.

Join local leaders and families, as we walk from St. James Park along Second Street ending at the San Jose Tech Museum.

Be part of the fun, as we sing holiday songs along the path, led by local children's choirs.

Sponsored by: Giant Creative Services,
Kaiser Permanente, MACLA,
Butler Amusement Inc. and
Silicon Valley Community Newspapers

For more information: www.winterwonderlandsj.com or wwinfo@giantcreative.com

Reminding us all that the holiday season is more about giving than receiving, downtown San Jose will host its first lantern parade.

Festivities are inspired by the German tradition of the St. Martin Day Parade, where children honored a Good Samaritan, who literally gave money and the clothes off his back to help others in need.

Children of all ages participating in the lantern procession will be Silicon Valley Holiday Ambassadors.

How do I get involved?

Bring canned goods or an unwrapped new toy to St. James Park in downtown San Jose (corner of St. John and 2nd Street).

Exchange your donation for a lantern and song book or purchase a lantern and songbook for $5.00

Proceeds from the lantern sales will benefit JW House.

In exchange for donations or with purchase of a lantern, all children will receive bracelets to enjoy free rides at Winter Wonderland for the remainder of the evening.

Hot chocolate and churros will be provided at the end of the procession.